

Welcome to the neighborhood!

Welcome to the Hawthorne area of Southeast Portland. We are all fortunate to live in such a great part of Portland. Close to downtown, the river, fantastic restaurants and lot's of recreational areas, to name only a few of this area's numerous qualities!

Public Transportation:

Tri-Met bus route #14 runs on Hawthorne every 15 minutes, most days and hours. You can catch it at 16th and 14th. The streetcar runs along Grand St. to NW and Downtown Portland via the Rose Garden arena.

Division, Belmont and Clinton streets are full of great restaurants, shops and fun things to do within walking or biking distance.

Don't Miss:

Cinemagic the one screen movie theater on 20th and Hawthorne is a comfortable local favorites showing new releases and oldies for much cheaper than the regular cinema.

Farmers Market (May-October):

Thursday's 3:00pm to 7:00pm in the parking lot of the Baptist church on 19th during the summer months. Live music, prepared food vendors, flowers, plants and food from local farms.

Great Coffee (2 of so many within walking distance):

Oui Presse on Hawthorne between 17th and 18th, French inspired cafe with lot's of magazines, and serving Stumptown Coffee, also has wi-fi. They make their own sweets and their own mix for mocha's which is delicious.

Tiny's just down the street on 12th and Hawthorne, good Panini sandwiches and they serve the Portland favorite Stumptown Coffee.

Food and Beverage:

Your new neighborhood is full of exceptional restaurants; these are just a few of my favorites. This is only the lower half of Hawthorne between 30th and 39th are dozens more.

McMenamins makes its mark on the Barley Mill Pub at 16th and Hawthorne. This is the Grateful Dead themed pub. If you are new to Portland the two McMenamin brothers have turned some of the cities most run down historic buildings into great neighborhood hangouts. They brew their own beer, distill their own spirits, bottle their own wine and roast their own coffee. They also own the Bagdad Movie Theater on upper Hawthorne, where you can eat and drink while you enjoy a movie or event.

Food Carts have become huge in Portland and one of the most popular spots for them is on 12th and Hawthorne. Most are open for lunch and stay open till 2am or later.

Iorio is located at 912 SE Hawthorne and serves italian food and also has a substantial happy hour.

Great breakfast can be found at Jam on 22nd and Hawthorne across from Grand Central Baking, which is also a great place for a quick breakfast or to pick up a loaf of fresh baked bread. Or take a walk to Genies on 12th and Division or Zells on 13th and Morrison.

Bombay Cricket Club offers Indian on 19th and Hawthorne. Try a mango rita if you like a deadly delicious mixture of tequila and mango juice.

Boxer Sushi is for the fish lover, not heavy deep fried rolls, just amazing fish and top quality ingredients. Located on 20th and Hawthorne next to the Blue Pig another breakfast spot.

Amazing burger and fries and much more at ROOST on 14th and Belmont.

Café Castagna or Castagna (fine dining) on about 17th and Hawthorne on the right hand side is a great place to take out of town guests.

Division and Clinton streets have many excellent and popular dining options between 20th and 39th.

Accanto is one of my favorite places. Go for the fritto misto (I think the best in the city) or spaghetti and meatball mondays are cheap and satisfying. An open kitchen allows you to interact with the wonderful staff. On SE 28th and Belmont. They also have a great happy hour from 5pm - 6pm and are open for weekend brunch and lunch.

Grocery Stores:

New Seasons at 7 corners on 20th and Division (local favorite)

Safeway around 25th and Hawthorne

Fred Meyer at 39th and Hawthorne

Zupans at 35th and Belmont (gourmet)

Kruegers (fruit, veggie and flowers) and the Flying Fish (fish & meat market) at 23rd and Hawthorne are great local markets.

Hardware Store:

Located at 17th and Hawthorne (set back off the street), very helpful staff and they have just about everything you could possibly need.
